A Stand Off In Values.

"Fifty years or more ago," remarked the old gentleman, "I was merchandising on the Mississippi—that is, I had a boat loaded with all sorts of things that would sell and floated with it from Cairo to New Orleans, dickering at various points along the shore Sometimes we sold for cash, but often we traded for country produce and shipped it on to New Orleans or sold it in the larger towns One of our leading articles was whisky, and we sold and traded a tremendous lot of it to the thirsty at every point we landed After we had been out about ten days a fellow came aboard one day and wanted to swap a dog for a gallon of whisky After some haggling he got the liquor and we got the dog. We left pretty soon afterward, and as we floated out into the river the man, with the whisky jug still ununcorked, stood on the bank and watched us go When we had got to what he thought was a safe distance, he began to guy us

"'Oh, what a dog!' he shouted. 'He ain't worth a cuss The meanest dog, he is, that ever sucked a aig er killed a sheep He's meaner n pizen' And then he laughed us to scorn and his gang joined with him

"'Wait till you try that whisky!' shouted our cabin crow, and then we laughed a laugh that we knew was a winner, for we knew what kind of liquor it was"—New York Sun

Antelopes Possess Great Curiosity.

Aleck had the oddest experience of the whole hunt at the same water hole a few weeks afterward He had crawled on a bunch of seven and was lying where I was when I shot my buck He was waiting for them to feed together so that he could get a better shot, and while lying there thoughtlessly kicked up his heels like a little boy The antelope had made no sign that they had suspected anything wrong, but they saw his heels waving back and forth, and instantly all was commotion He dropped his heels very suddenly and lay there confounding his stupidity, when he noticed that the whole bunch was moving up toward the spot where those mysterious things had been seen He understood it at once His heels made a new kind of flag, and he was not slow to act on the suggestion He waved them again, and again the antelopes stopped to gaze at the curious black things moving slowly back and forth up there on the ridge When the boots dropped out of sight again, the antelope, impelled by their fatal curiosity, moved nearer to them So they kept it up until the bunch was not 75 yards away Presently he got two of them in range and drawing a fine sight he fired, and they both fell The others heeled like the wind and were off over the ridge, but not before another bullet cut down a buck —Outing

Gold From Cremated Rats.

It is said to be a common practice for the boys in watch and jewelry factories to kill the rats that infest the buildings and burn their bodies to obtain the gold Many old rags are used in burnishing watch cases, and in time they become impregnated with gold The rats eagerly devour these rags, and a few months of this kind of diet fills the interior mechanism of the rats with a gold plating Twice a year the boys have a grand cremation The rats are caught by the hundreds and burned in a crucible The intense heat drives off all animal substances and leaves the gold in the shape of a button The amount of the precious metal obtained in this way is not large but it gives the ingenious youngsters considerable pocket money In some factories young Napoleons of finance buy up in advance the shares of their fellow workers in the rat colony —New York Press

He Converted Her

"It's all right, Mary," he said pathetically "Go into politics and run for office if you want to But remember one thing—the cartoonists'll be after you as soon as you're a candidate"

"I don't care"

"And they'll put your picture in the paper, with your hair out of curl and your hat on crooked"

"Do you think they would do that?" she inquired apprehensively

"Of course And they'll make your Paris gowns look like 10 cent calico and say that your sealskin cloak is imitation"

"William," she said after a thoughtful pause "I guess I'll just stay right here and make home happy"—Washington Star

A Valuable Relic.

I [illegible] Colonel George Rawson, clerk of the [illegible] yesterday He was smoking a peculiar looking pipe, and a friend remarked upon it

"Yes," he said, "it's a peculiar looking pipe, and a costly one It cost $6 60 It was bought at the World's fair in Chicago for $5 Its bowl was broken shortly after, and it cost $1 for a new bowl In a few weeks the stem was broken, and it cost 60 cents for a new stem"

"Why do you keep it?"

"Well because it came from the fair"

"But did you not tell me that the parts that came from the fair were broken and had been replaced?"

"Yes, but I keep it because it had associations with parts of the old pipe"—[illegible]

ERIE MEDICAL CO., Buffalo, N.Y.

A "RUN-DOWN," "tired out" woman who complains of backache, headache, loss of appetite, extreme lassitude and that "don't care" feeling is pretty sure to be suffering from "Female Weakness," some irregularity or derangement of the special functions of womanhood. Very often womb troubles set the nerves wild with affright and as a result the woman suffers from sleeplessness, nervousness, nervous prostration, faintness and dizziness, irritability and indigestion In all cases of irregularity or suspended monthly function and in all those nervous diseases depending upon local causes, Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription will restore you to perfect health. Instead of the exhaustion and feeling of weight and dragging down in the abdomen, you feel fresh and strong. For young girls who suffer from irregularities, for the hard-working woman who suffers from catarrhal inflammation of the lining membranes causing a constant drain upon the system, there is no prescription used by any physician which can equal in results Dr Pierce's. For over thirty years Dr R V Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y, has used his "Favorite Prescription" in the diseases of women which had long been his specialty and in fully ninety-eight per cent. of all cases, it has permanently cured.

MRS CONKLIN

Mrs John M Conklin, of Patterson Putnam Co., N Y, writes "I am enjoying perfect health and have been since I took the last bottle of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription I took five bottles of it Never expected to be any better when I commenced taking it but thank God I can say that I am glad it reached my home I had falling of the womb and flowing caused by miscarriage and was very weak when I commenced taking your medicines I was cured by taking five bottles in all—two of the 'Favorite Prescription' and three of the 'Golden Medical Discovery'"

FOR AND AGAINST SILVER.

Two Congresses have been in session at Atlanta, Georgia, where the Cotton States' Exposition is being held. One is the Farmer's National Congress and the other is the American Banker's Association. The Farmer's Congress declared for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, while the papers read and the addresses delivered at the Banker's Association were generally against the free coinage of silver at any ratio. The farmers as a general rule, wanted more money, while the bankers, especially those who are in with or under obligations to the gold trust, did not.

As there are several hundred farmers to every banker, it would indicate that the majority is for free coinage, but as political conventions are now manipulated the contrary is made to appear. The farmers as a rule are not political manipulators and do not work conventions, consequently there is seldom a fair expression of their views in party platforms. Though a few of them are imbued with single gold standard ideas there are proportionately as many bankers who believe in free coinage. President St John of one of the New York city national banks is as staunch an advocate of the free coinage of gold and silver as there is in the country. His arguments for the faith that is in him have not been refuted, but as his dealings are generally with gold men and he is not in politics, his views are seldom given in the public press.

Strenuous efforts are being made by the gold syndicate to suppress all favorable reference to the silver question. The Eastern press, that is the great metropolitan papers, are, as Whitelaw Reid of the New York Tribune candidly admitted, paid to lie. They misrepresent the sentiments of nearly every prominent silver man and never correct their mistatements. The remarks of the few farmers who opposed free coinage at the Atlanta Congress are given prominence, while the arguments of the bankers who think free coinage would benefit the country are garbled if not wholly suppressed, so that the casual reader is led to believe that a majority of the farmers and all the bankers in the country favor the gold standard.

COMPLEXION OF THE SENATE.

The Sergeant-at-Arms of the United States Senate gives the political complexion of that body as figured out to date by the Secretary as follows: Forty-two Republicans, thirty-nine Democrats and six Populists. There is one vacancy from Delaware which may be filled by a Republican. Those classed as Populists are Allen of Nebraska, Kyle of South Dakota, Peffer of Kansas and Stewart of Nevada. Jones of Nevada and Butler of North Carolina are classed as doubtful, though Butler was elected by the Populists.

No party will have a majority in the next Senate, hence it is not probable that any vicious legislation will be enacted unless the gold bug Republicans and Democrats unite and form a third party, as they did to pass the bill repealing the Sherman Act. It would be better for the people if there were three parties about equally divided in each House of Congress, as it would absolutely prevent legislation for partisan purposes. As it has been the party in power passed appropriation bills and raked the Treasury on many occasions to benefit strikers and retainers. It is morally certain that no such bills will pass the next Senate, as no party will have votes enough to get them through. Possibly the free silver men will be able to muster votes enough to pass a bill through the Senate, but with Reed Speaker of the House and Cleveland in the President's Chair it could not become a law.

THE VANDERBILTS SEEKING CONTROL.

The news comes from Chicago that the Vanderbilts are negotiating for the control of the Union Pacific and the Central Pacific railroads. Senator Thurston of Nebraska, the attorney for the Union Pacific, is in San Francisco. It is stated that he and President Huntington of the Southern Pacific, who is also in San Francisco, say they would not be surprised to see the Vanderbilts in control of the Union Pacific when the financial reorganization of that road is completed.

The Union Pacific is said to be in a bad condition financially. It is in the hands of receivers and it owes an immense debt to the Government. Two of the five men recently appointed to provide ways and means to reorganize the finances of the Union Pacific are Vanderbilt people, and the Vanderbilts would like a road to the Pacific. The Union Pacific has lost its seaboard terminus in Oregon, but it may endeavor, if the Vanderbilts get control, to regain it. Failing in that the Vanderbilts may attempt to get control of the Central Pacific. On this subject Mr. Huntington is quoted as saying that the Vanderbilts have not sought to lease or get control of the Central Pacific, and he is not anxious to part with it. If they want to build into San Francisco that will be their business, not his.

MASSACHUSETTS has adopted the referendum system, advocated by the Populists, to decide the question of woman suffrage. The Legislature passed an act to submit the suffrage question to all persons qualified to vote for school committees. If a majority favor woman suffrage then the Legislature will pass an act granting the suffrage to women.

Fifty Unarmed Armenians Killed by a Mob.

TURKISH AFFAIRS.

Fifty Armenians Killed by a Mob.

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 18.—The appeal of the Sultan to the Russian Ambassador, A. J. De Nelidoff, to cause the recall of the order for the Russian gunboat to go to Trebizond has proved futile. French and Russian steamers are taking Armenian refugees from Trebizond.

The report of a riot at Akbiasar in the district of Adin on the Anatolian railway, in which fifty Armenians were killed, on October 9, market' day, by a Moslem mob, is confirmed. Turks picked a quarrel with unarmed Armenians, looted the market and massacred the helpless Christians, afterwards throwing the bodies into wells. Twenty bodies have already been recovered from wells and interred in the presence of the Armenian Bishop of Ismid.

Izzet Efendi, the celebrated Turkish lawyer, who was arrested recently and charged with being the author of the placards in favor of the Armenians, posted in Stamboul, has, according to an official announcement, died in the Yildiz prison, where he was confined awaiting trial. A tirade was promulgated to-day announcing that the Sultan has signed the Armenia Reform scheme demanded by the Powers.

COLORADO FESTIVITIES.

The Indians One of the Principal Features.

DENVER, October 17.—Never has such a crowd been seen in Denver as that in attendance at the first annual festival of Mountain and Plain. The railroads estimated that they brought 45,000 passengers to the city in the past two days. A grand military parade was given this afternoon, in which Federal troops from Fort Logan, the entire National Guard of the State and the Grand Army posts and Sons of Veterans participated. The parade was followed in the afternoon by drills by both the Federal and State troops.

A unique feature of the celebration to-day was furnished by bands of Santa Clara or Pueblo Indians, and Utes, old time foes, who now occupy adjoining camps in the City Park. The Pueblos give their "arco" or bow and arrow dance, and the Utes gave a social dance, the music being furnished by the Teller Institute band of Indian boys. To-night there will be an illuminated wheelmen's parade. Some marvelous effects are shown in the electric illumination of the city each night.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

An Increase in Its Net Earnings.

NEW YORK, October 17.—President Brayton Ives, in a circular to the Northern Pacific stockholders, says that the net earnings for the year were greater by $1,384,204 than those of the previous year.

The increase to date of the present fiscal year is $876,448. Ives refers to the report of the Receivers as to their administration expenditures during the last two years, and expresses the opinion that the Northern Pacific railroad has seen its darkest days. He concludes by saying that if the property can be run on a strictly business basis it cannot fail of good returns to its security holders and satisfactory services to the States which it traverses.

The ticket for the Directors of the Northern Pacific Railroad was elected without opposition. A resolution was adopted instructing the Directors to prosecute suits against Henry Villard and others for the recovery of sums alleged to have been misappropriated

The Loyal Legion Calls on the President.

WASHINGTON, October 17.—The Commandery-in-Chief of the Loyal Legion, about forty strong, headed by Commander-in-Chief John Gibbon, called at the White House and were introduced to the President by General Gibbon and Major Huxford. To each the President gave a cordial greeting. There was a striking scene when General Gibbon called out, "Huxford, strike up a song," and the veterans joined heartily in the chorus of "Marching Through Georgia," with voices somewhat broken but not lacking in spirit. The President listened gravely and when the music died away made a few felicitous remarks.

Tarred and Feathered.

DENVER, October 17.—News reached here to-day that a negro named Bob Marshall had been tarred and feathered at Greeley last night for having insulted Governor McIntire at the Potato Day celebration. Marshall, who had been arrested, was taken from the jail last night by a mob and escorted to the outskirts of the town, tarred and feathered and ordered to leave town. He was not seriously injured and to-day he left for Fort Collins. Governor McIntire was surprised when informed this afternoon of the incident at Greeley.

Kovalev Crazy.

SACRAMENTO, October 17.—Ivan Kovalev, who is confined in the County Jail awaiting trial for the murder of F. H. L. Weber and his wife, is growing desperate under his long confinement.

He cannot speak or understand the English language sufficiently to carry on a conversation with the other prisoners, and has, naturally, grown despondent.

This morning he seemed to be crazy. He became so frantic that he began breaking up the articles in his cell.

Kovalev complains of terrible pains in his head.

Major W. A. Anderson, one of the prisoner's attorneys, says that he was firmly convinced that Kovalev was a victim of a conspiracy hatched against him by the Russians in San Francisco. The lawyer admits, however, that the circumstances against Kovalev are exceedingly black.

Bankers and the National Credit.

ATLANTA, Ga., October 17.—Edward Atkinson of Boston delivered an address before the Banker's Association to-day, advocating the issuance of $90,000,000 in bonds by the Government to redeem and retire the outstanding notes of 1890. The indirect references to President Cleveland in Atkinson's speech were loudly applauded. The convention adopted a resolution offered by W. H. Rahwan of Philadelphia that a committee of seven or eleven of each section of the country be appointed by the Bankers' Association to confer with the Secretary of the Treasury with reference to the co-operation of the banks in maintaing the national credit.

Heavy Shortage.

KANSAS CITY, October 17.—A special to the Star from Fort Scott, Kansas, says that developments this morning in the case of the defaulting cashier, D. R. Colean, of the State Bank shows the shortage to be $50,000 instead of $23,000 as at first supposed. Vice-President Stewart stated that Colean literally gutted the reserve fund, realizing on $20,000 of the best securities held by the St. Louis, New York and Kansas City banks.

The Slayer of Harris.

SACRAMENTO, October 17.—L. L. Callendine, who shot and killed John C. Harris, a son of the late Lee Harris, while Callendine was out walking with his wife, has been admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000. The coroner's jury has decided that Callendine shot in self-defense. His examination will be held next week, at which time it is believed he will be discharged.

The Truckee Republican reports that Governor Budd had a close call last Saturday from an overdose of morphine. He is a guest of Colonel Doolittle at Alta Station, and the dose was administered by a physician of that place. For a time his recovery was doubtful. The Governor and his friends tried to keep the matter quiet, but it leaked out.

The sale of the Buckeye mines has put new life in Western Nevada. If silver was remonetized Nevada would be one of the liveliest States in the Union and the population would double within six months. The sale of the Buckeye mines is sufficient to satisfy the most stupid Republican or Democrat on that point. Let us all go for free coinage and prosperity.

A Mass Meeting Called.

The National American Woman Suffrage Association having called a mass convention at Reno on the 29th and 30th of October present, it is deemed advisable that a local organization should be made. A call for a mass meeting of our citizens is hereby made to convene at the Congregational Church parlors at Reno on Saturday, October 19, 1895, at 8 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of making a suffrage local organization for Washoe county.

ELDA A. ORR,
2t Chairman of local committee.

RING METHODS.

The Courts Breaking Up the Combination.

EDITOR JOURNAL—Facts indicate that about the time the Legislature adjourned last spring a ring was formed with "the greatest lawyer in the State of Nevada" as its "brightest gem" to run Washoe county. One of the first acts of the combination was to give $350 from the county treasury to "the greatest lawyer in the State" to do nothing in collecting back taxes from the Central Pacific Railroad Company. The next move was to levy a license tax not only on the places of amusement and business which the law provided might be taxed, but on various occupations which the law expressly declared should not be taxed. For the brain power expended in formulating this illegal ordinance the Commissioners, or to be strictly accurate, the majority of the Board allowed $50 The Auditor requested the Board to quote the law authorizing the expenditure and received for answer a summons to appear in court and show cause why he should not issue a warrant. The Auditor did appear and, as the District Attorney was against the people, the Auditor, not being a lawyer, had to employ outside counsel to defend the treasury from the raiders. Judge Cheney promptly decided that the Auditor had authority to veto illegal bills, and the ring, with the leading attorney of the State as adviser, appealed to the Supreme Court.

Should the ruling of Judge Cheney in this matter be reversed, the majority of the Board can allow any claim they please against the town treasury and the Auditor must draw his warrant for the amount. In the, so far, vain endeavor to establish this pernicious system the taxpayers have to foot all the bills, as the people are made the plaintiff in the attempt to license the ring to rob them.

To sum up, the case now stands as follows: The ordinance, for framing which $50 was allowed by the majority of the Board, is declared unlawful in the District Court, in fact the law is so plain on the subject that a school boy could not mistake it. The Auditor vetoed the bill for $50 and the District Court decided that the Auditor had authority to do so, but the Supreme Court is asked to overrule the District Court and declare that the Auditor must draw a warrant not only for the $50, but for any bill, however unjust or illegal, that the majority of the Board of County Commissioners may allow.

How long will the taxpayers of this community quietly submit to this?

H. H. BECK.

Reno, Oct. 17, 1895.

BESET WITH THIEVES.

Robberies of Nightly Occurrence at Wadsworth.

We have had a robbery in Wadsworth every night this week, says the Dispatch. After the Home Meat Market was burglarized, W. S. Bailey's cellar was gutted, and following that came the ransacking of George Schutz's place, carrying off a winter's supply of home made jellies, etc. Besides these there are several robberies which have been kept quiet in the hope of locating the thieves We seem to be getting just such a benefit as Reno got several weeks ago and members of that gang must be operating here. The town has been clogged for some time with a lot of suspicious looking characters, and it would be well to have them on the move as they have no legitimate business here Wadsworth needs purging and needs it badly. Residents should take what precautions they can to guard their property, and the constable should endeavor to make it interesting for the thieves, who are certainly making it interesting for our people by various acts besides larceny.

The Queen of Comedies To-Night.

The attraction at McKissick's Opera House to-night will be the best of all comedies, "Jane." Its success last year is well remembered by theatre goers, and the engagement then was most prosperous and pleasant. The company that will be seen in this comedy will no doubt be warmly welcomed, as it has among its members those artists that have made the comedy famous.

The story of the play can be profitably recalled at this time. A gay young London bachelor has been living for three years on the interest of an estate, bequeathed to him on the condition that he marries. This estate is in the hands of a trustee, who pays the young man the income because the latter has informed him that he has taken a wife. The young man is unduly extravagant, and one fine day the trustee resolves to go to London and remonstrate with him. When the young fellow learns of his coming he is in a dilemma. He has no wife, but bribes the housemaid, Jane, to impersonate her. Jane has married William, a man-servant, whom she persuades for financial reasons to consent to the deception. A baby is borrowed, and all manner of absurd devices are employed to deceive the confiding old trustee. The fun is fast and furious through three acts, but finally explanations are made and all ends happily.

Fillmore's New Position.

The office of General Superintendent of the Southern Pacific has been abolished. J. A. Fillmore, who occupied that office, has been given the title of Manager of the Pacific system of the Southern Pacific. This includes all the lines between Ashland, Oregon, on the north, El Paso on the south, Ogden on the east and the Pacific ocean on the west. The order is signed by C. P. Huntington and Manager Kruttschnitt.

UNDER—CONSUMPTION.

Some Important Questions Plainly Answered.

Question—What do the absorbers claim is the cause of the present low price of commodities?

Answer—Over-production.

Q.—As a matter of fact are they right?

A.—No, the real cause of low prices is under-consumption, caused by the poverty of the consumers.

Q.—What is the cause of the poverty of the consumers?

A.—Vicious financial legislation is the principal cause.

Q.—Do the absorbers use any other term than over-production to show the farmers why they are receiving such low prices for their products?

A.—Sometimes they tell the farmers that the price of their products is controlled by the "inexorable" law of supply and demand.

Q.—Can you give an object lesson to show that poverty of the consumers results in under-consumption?

A.—Several years ago there was a failure of the grain crop of Russia and other parts of Europe, the Russian peasants were too poor to buy wheat at any price and went without. It is estimated that twenty-five million Russians subsisted for months on roots, while other millions were put on half rations of grain.

Q.—Was there a good grain crop in the United States that year?

A.—Yes, and a number of ship-loads were donated to the Russians free of charge.

Q.—Do the absorbers ever hint that the value of money is controlled by the law of supply and demand?

A.—No, they do not want it known that they have almost complete control over the supply and like control over the demand.

Q.—How do they control the supply of and the demand for money?

A.—By controlling financial legislation and by holding securities that call for many times the amount of money in existence. FARMER.

The Dispatch says the little girl was playing with her cousin in the wood shed when a vicious dog scratched and tore her sweet face in a horrible manner, and possibly so that she will bear the marks of the ugly wounds. Mrs. Hall immediately left with the child for Wadsworth where she is now receiving the best of care.

Reception to Father Kiely.

Rev. Father Kiely, pastor of the Catholic Church here, who has been in ill health for some time contemplates taking a trip east probably to Europe, on a health-seeking mission. The members of his church, and citizens generally, hold the Reverend gentleman in the highest esteem and as a token of their respect tendered him a reception at Masonic Hall last evening, where a large number of ladies and gentlemen assembled. The following program had been arranged, which was carried out: Selection by the orchestra, solo by little Lizzette Hoskins, recitation by Miss E. D Boyle of Virginia, presentation address by Ed Caine, which was responded to by Father Kiely, music by the orchestra. Remarks and short addresses were then in order, which were brimming over with good wishes for the Reverend Father, a God-speed on his journey, an early restoration to health and a safe return. The following gentlemen spoke: President Stubbs, Dr. W. A. Phillips, Rev. Thos. Magill, Dr. Hogan, Rev. Mr. Freeman and Dr. P. T. Phillips. A splendid lunch was served by the ladies, to which all did full justice and it was noted by those present that the evening as a whole was one of the most social and enjoyable ever spent in Reno. Father Kiely expects to leave for the east on Monday morning.

A Painful Accident.

Dave Blake met with a painful accident at Washoe last evening just as the train was pulling out of that station. It seems that he was on the platform at the station and noticing the train pulling out he ran to get on board, and in the darkness stumbled or stepped into a hole, throwing him in such a manner as to strike his chin against the car steps. A terrible gash was cut under his chin and he was otherwise severely bruised. Dr. W. A. Phillips attended his injuries.

There is no form of Scrofula more obstinate or more common than swelling of the glands of the neck. But every form of blood disease yields to the potent powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read the following from a grateful father:

"Our little boy when a little over a year old had three large bunches come on the left side of his neck. A physician lanced the bunches twice. He advised a blood medicine and we commenced giving our boy Hood's Sarsaparilla. He has taken four bottles. The bunches on his neck have disappeared and

Better Than a Sleeping Draft.

The soul of a Brooklyn electrician has been sorely tried by the nocturnal song of cats. Night after night his well earned rest would be broken by the solos, duets and choruses which were given by the feline congregation in his back yard. One night, while he was lying awake vowing deep and summary vengeance on his tormentors, an inspiration came to him. He had heard that the cat, like the skylark, does not sing on the ground. It must climb a fence to find inspiration for the outpourings of its musical soul. The electrician's back yard is surrounded by a high fence, which would invariably be studded with dim silhouettes far into the night, but they are there no longer. The overwrought sufferer conceived the idea of running a wire through which he could send a powerful current around the top of the fence, the switch bar being close to his hand. He says the sweetest moment of his life was when the first cat humped its back against the wire. He joyously pressed the button. There was a ragged, alternating current kind of a howl and an instantaneous whisking of a furry mass, and all was still. Within a week not a cat would come within ten rods of that fence, and the ingenious Brooklynite now sleeps peacefully.—Exchange.

France's One Guillotine.

There is only one guillotine in France, all others having long since been destroyed. The one of Paris alone remains, but it travels all over the country. In the course of its peregrinations the instrument is governed by local customs, and according to their nature are executions painful or painless.

In some departments the condemned is slowly taken to the place of execution through the streets, and toilet details depend on local precedents.

Not long ago a prisoner was taken to early mass, and meanwhile the instrument of death awaited him by the church door.

In Paris only 15 minutes intervene from the waking of the prisoner to the fall of his head in the basket, but in the country the hungry knife is sometimes allowed to wait for its victim for hours. The condemned is entirely in the keeping of the jailer, who is responsible for the man's life—that is to say, it is his duty to deliver to the guillotine a living being.

But as things are the prisoner is often needlessly tormented by the timidity of the keeper, who, knowing to what penalties he would be subject, is often overanxious to guard against suicide.—Pearson's Weekly.

Fad and Tip.

A recently published article on the derivation of the word "fad" speaks of it as being of Welsh origin, giving "ffedd" as the root word. A correspondent writes on the subject: "The word 'fad' is a manufactured word, not given by Worcester. It has been in use only a short time, comparatively, and while it may be derived from the Welsh it is more probable that it is made from the initial letters of the words 'for a day.' The word 'tip' originated, it is said, in that way. The story goes that in an old time English tavern a receptacle for small coin was placed in a conspicuous place over which appeared the legend, 'To insure promptness.' Whatever was placed in the box was given to the servants. Other taverns followed the example, and soon the three words were written 'T. I. P.,' everybody knowing what they indicated. Then the punctuation marks were dropped, and the word 'tip' was born. 'Fad' and 'tip' are of the same class and kind."

Battle of the Buckles.

In a petty war carried on between the rival cites of Athens and Egean a small body of soldiers entered the latter town. They were met by an angry mob of women who unclasped their girdles, which were fastened with metal buckles, and attacked the foe furiously. The soldiers hesitated, not wishing to injure the women, but the affray became so serious that they fled down the streets. The women pursued them, using their long sashes as lassos and striking the enemy without mercy.

The case was afterward brought into the courts, and, sorrowful to relate, was decided against the Egeans, for the judges decreed that henceforth no Egean woman should wear a buckle. The Athenians thereupon took special pride in this ornament, which they flaunted before the eyes of their rivals.—Current Literature.

New Use For Love Letters.

An ingenious bride, so the story goes, has evolved a happy scheme for keeping her husband true to the protestations of his wooing. The engagement was a long one, the love letters exchanged, legion. With these letters she has papered her boudoir. No man could in the face of such evidence of eternal devotion object to the price of a new bonnet or be stingy in the matter of pin money. How could he scold about the butcher's bill, or be sulky even if she did give his pet lounging coat to the old clothes man or put her pug to sleep in his Sunday hat or cry because he staid at the club and forgot to come in until midnight as in his bachelor days?—Philadelphia Call.

His Pardonable Mistake.

"It was a bad break the Rev. Dr. Fourthly made when he married that couple the other day."

"What was it?"

"He performed the ceremony all right, but he never had married anybody in bloomers before, and he's a little nearsighted, you know, and when he came to saluting the bride, according to his custom, he became a little flurried and kissed the young man."—Chicago Tribune.

To Save One's Bacon.

"To save one's bacon"—that is, to make a narrow escape—is supposed to refer to the Dunmow flitch. For many centuries it was the custom at Dunmow, in England, to present a flitch of bacon to a married couple of 20 years' standing who would make oath on the Scriptures that they had never had a quarrel. To come close to a quarrel without an actual rupture was, in the popular dialect, "to save one's bacon."

Value of Artesian Wells.

In many parts of the country artesian wells may be bored and will furnish running streams at the surface. This is due of course to the formation of the under strata of the earth, and if one is fortunate enough to strike a good vein the supply will be abundant. In portions of the south artesian wells have been bored to the depth of 1,300 feet. One of these wells was finished in less than three weeks, striking a vein of water 1,200 feet below the surface that furnishes an outpour sufficient for the town's uses. It is not an uncommon occurrence that one must drill the second time into a well to secure a permanent supply of water. It is a curious fact that after one has reached a certain depth piping is unnecessary.

A well in New York state was dug to a depth of 150 feet and furnished a reasonable supply of water by pumping. After the second season it gave out entirely, when the drill was put in and nearly 200 feet more were cut through before water was reached. For the first 150 feet the pipe went down, but after that the water rose through the cut in the earth, there being consistency and firmness enough in the soil to make piping unnecessary.—New York Ledger.

But He Was a Bad Soldier.

There was one man in General Harrison's regiment notorious for his bad character. No amount of imprisonment seemed to have any influence over him. He was as well known in the orderly room as the sergeant major, and his courts martial took an hour to read on parade. At last he was sentenced to be flogged and dismissed the service with ignominy, and the sentence was duly carried out. All through the horrid ceremony the prisoner never uttered a word of fear, of bitterness or complaint.

As he was drummed out of the barrack gate in the ignominious fashion of those days an officer said to him, "If while in the service you had behaved half as well as you have done while undergoing your punishment, you would have made a good soldier." To which the man respectfully answered, "I would, sir, if you had been my captain." And added the general to his audience, "Surely there must have been some want of system and of care in carrying out the mental training in that man's company."—Blackwood's Magazine.

Shoes.

The Portuguese shoe has a wooden sole and heel, with a vamp made of patent leather, fancifully showing the flesh side of the skin. The Persian footgear is a raised shoe and is often a foot high. It is made of light wood richly inlaid, with a strap extending over the instep. The Muscovite shoe is hand woven on a wooden frame, and but little attention is paid to the shape of the foot. Leather is sometimes used, but the sandal is generally made of colored silk cordage and woolen cloth. The Siam shoe has the form of an ancient canoe, with a gondola bow and an open toe. The sole is made of wood, and the upper of inlaid wood and cloth, and the exterior is elaborately ornamented in colors with [illegible] silver.
